

Environmental Policy

We take responsibility for the environment – today and for the future.

Cotec Labs shall conduct its operations with a sustainable approach and actively contribute to reducing environmental impact. Our goal is to create value for customers, society, and future generations through knowledge, development, and responsibility.

Protect resources and promote sustainability

We share knowledge and expertise in corrosion testing and surface analysis to influence our customers to develop sustainable and profitable products.

Reduce environmental impact

We develop our operations and work proactively to ensure minimal environmental impact within economic, technical, and market feasibility. Our significant environmental aspects are energy, chemicals, and waste.

Comply with laws and requirements

We comply with applicable environmental legislation and other relevant requirements and ensure these are integrated into our processes.

Continuous improvements

Through systematic environmental work, internal audits, and collaboration with employees, customers, and suppliers, we strive for continuous improvement.
